

Bowling

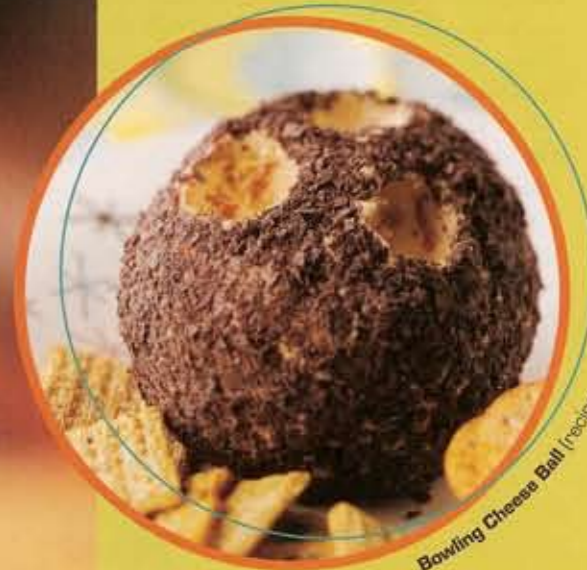

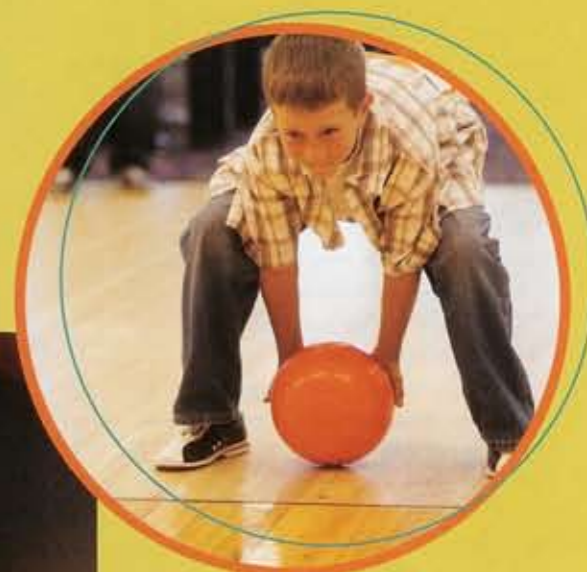

BASH

Bowling is back! It's more popular than ever with kids, so hosting a bowling party may be right up your alley. Bowl over young guests by teaching them how to roll the ball, keep score, and do silly moves like bowling backward between their legs. At this party, everyone is sure to have a ball!

let's go bowling!

Give your guests zippy invitations that are sure to get everyone excited to bowl. Purchase retro-style scrapbooking paper as well as some solid-color scrapbooking paper. Find a stylized font on your computer and print the word, "BOWL," once for each invitation. Cut each letter out of the paper. Cut the selected scrapbooking paper into various geometric shapes. Glue several of the shapes together, with a solid-color shape on top. Glue the printed letters atop the shapes. Write the party information on the solid-color paper.

Bowling Cheese Ball (recipe, page 65)

Written by Kathy Roth Eastman, Produced by Stephanie Hunter, Photographer: Andy Lyons, Food Stylist: Charles Worthington, Prop Stylists: Sue Mitchell, Holly Rabekis.